Fairhaven High School

Dedication

We respectfully dedicate this issue of the

HUTTLESTONIAN

to

MR. EARL J. DIAS

In sincere appreciation for all that he has done for us throughout the years.

MRS. CROMIE

MRS. HOWLAND

MRS. BRUCE

We dedicate this page to
Our Advisers
In appreciation of the help
they have given us
throughout the past four years.

Foreword

Graduation, the day for which we have waited so long, is here at last. In spite of our excited anticipation, there is a part of each of us that longs to stay here, safe and secure, in the life and school we love so well. The responsibilities of the world are so great for our inexperience; for what the world will be tomorrow, is ours to form today. Yet, in each of us is something proud, eager to enter the world and shoulder our responsibilities, to prove to the world that the youth of today is as fine and capable as ever.

Our theme this year, medieval times and knights in shining armor, is an appropriate one in these days, for, now, more than ever, the world needs crusaders — crusaders for truth, for brotherhood, for justice, and for peace.

We have spent our most formative years at Fairhaven, and what our school and teachers have done for us, we can only repay by using the knowledge and ideals they have given us to better the world.

Motto

"What you are to be, you are now becoming."

Class Officers

Left to right — Mrs. Doris Bruce, Adviser; Gail Jertson, Treasurer; David Bold, President; Geraldine Corcoran, Vice President; Anne Sylvia, Secretary.

Introduction

Childhood memories recall fables and tales
Of knights riding out on holy quests,
And lovely ladies behind delicate veils,
Of deadly jousts and virile tests.

These knights were noble, brave, and good;
On sturdy steeds, they traversed the land,
Doing bold deeds as everyone should,
And mighty boons at their king's command.

In years to come, so that all can see
The deeds of the class of '54,
We chose this, our theme, to be your key
To open the lock of memory's door.

FAIRHAVEN HIGH SCHOOL

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

To the Class of 1954:

As you come to the close of your high school course, many of your friends will offer you their congratulations. I want to join these well-wishers.

If you have given to your studies the attention they deserve, you have developed some fundamental skills and secured useful information about a variety of subjects.

In our country, about one out of every four who are graduated from high school goes on to college. Perhaps you will be one of these. In that case, you will add to your skills and to your knowledge.

All this is good, but it is not enough. Your emotions need to be educated as well as your muscles and your brain. The way you "feel" about things will determine to a marked degree what you will do with your skills and knowledge. How do you feel about yourself? Have you set high standards that make you unwilling to stoop to what is lazy, mean, or dishonest? How do you feel about others? Do you desire their welfare and success as you do your own? How do you feel about America? Can you live for America with an enthusiasm that approaches the devotion of those who died for her? Can you see her beauty and strength and do your share to preserve them for your children's children? Can you see her faults and do something to mend them so that America can continue to be an able and worthy leader among the nations of the world?

I look to each member of the Class of 1954 to join the ranks of the industrious, unselfish, patriotic citizens who make America the country it ought to be.

Sincerely,

CHESTER M. DOWNING,

dict of the Fairhaven High School class of '55 proudly proclaims the success of the Junior Tournament.

As the gala event was about to begin, the clarion call of trumpeting horsemen resounded through the lists, announcing the arrival of King Edward and his court.

Having ascended his throne, his highness then motioned proceedings to commence. Royal coach, Lord Entin, acknowledged the regal gesture and sent forth his charging Knights of the Square Bench, under the leadership of Prince Peter Bettencourt, and Sir Antone Frates.

Subsequent to the hurling of the vanquished to creatures in Acushnet Moat, the Junior-Senior Cotillion was held in celebration of our glorious triumph.

During the interim of sporting events, a large gathering was sighted at yonder tent where Ye Olde Class Project was held, ably supervised by Lady Marie of Noyer Manor.

In the main tent, enthusiastic cheerleaders, given added vitality by the presence of the Lady Audrey of Mattapoissett Manor, led the formidable basketball team to another victory.

This regal tournament of the Junior Class of F.H.S. culminated with a magnificent ball, Ye Olde Junior Promenade. Lords and Ladies of surrounding Manors attended in their royal splendor, terminating an event of joy and triumph.

Mingling in the crowd we noticed several Counts and Countesses of the class of '54. We wish to express our hope for their greatest success in future endeavors.

Class History

September 6, 1950. Our long crusade for knowledge began with Marietta Vogt as our President, Nancy Pearson as Vice President, Frances McKnight as Secretary, and Gordon Viera as Treasurer. Our first big event was the Freshman-Junior Dance which was a grand success. In the late winter we bravely undertook a talent show. Considering the amount of talent on hand, Gail Jertson did a marvelous job of coaching Donald McCarthy, Pat Nicolaci, and Larry Perry in a wild horses dance. Gerry Corcoran, Joan Lopes, and Bev Reed were chosen as cheerleaders. When June rolled around, we were all glad to see the end of our first expedition, but we looked forward to our second eagerly.

September 5, 1951. We entered the second year of our crusade with high hearts under the leadership of "Biffy" MacLean, Marietta Vogt, Gordon Viera, and Gerry Corcoran. When Gordon left in December, Nancy Pearson took his place as Secretary. We decided to raise money by selling assorted greeting cards and raising our dues to $.75. The Centennial Pageant was held this year, and, though few Sophomores participated in it, it was an important school event. The social event of the year for our class was the Freshman-Sophomore "Snowball Hop." The gym was decorated with snowmen and snowballs, music was by the Silvertones, and a good time was had by all who went. Audrey Carlos was added to the cheering squad. Our cheerleaders fought a battle at Spencer, and came home with first prize. We completed our second year, already anticipating our Junior year.

September 3, 1952. "Biffy", our President, followed by Gerry, Marietta and Nancy, began his reign with chin up and thinking cap on. After a difficult, but well supported football season, the Junior-Senior "Football Hop" was held in the gym. For our class project, we sold Christmas wrapping paper which added to our growing treasury. The Junior Prom with its coronation theme was held, amid pomp and ceremony, on May first. Gerry was chosen Captain of the cheering squad for next year. Frances McKnight, Nancy Pearson, Gail Smythe, and Ed Sullivan were chosen to write the Junior Page for the Huttlestonian. Deeply impressed by the honor given them, Pat Carmichael, Fran McKnight, Nancy Pearson, and Linda Durfee were installed as officers of the Honor Society. "Biffy" to no one's surprise, was chosen All Bristol County for his football exploits. Elinor Dreher was chosen to represent Fairhaven at Girls' State, John Darling at Boys' State. With our heads filled with happy remembrances, we left our Junior Year, only to look forward with even greater enthusiasm to our final, our Senior year.

September 9, 1953. Our fourth year found us with a new leader, David Bold, ably assisted by aides-de-camp Gerry Corcoran, Anne Sylvia and Gail Jertson. Since Nancy Pearson had left, Connie Phaneuf was added to the list of Honor Society officers. Matt Perry's orchestra played for the Junior-Senior "Candlelight Ball." Gail Jertson was chosen our D. A. R. Representative and David Bold our Student Government representative. The Mock Town Elections, sponsored by the Student Council, resulted in victory for "Biffy" as selectman and Dick Herrick, Donald MacCarthy, Ed Sullivan, Sandy Keuchler, and Joan M. Silva in other key positions. "Biffy" was again chosen all Bristol County in football. After many difficulties, the Senior play was cast with John Duggan, Linda Durfee, Dot Foster, "Pat" Nicolaci, Ephrem Loranger, Gail Jertson, Marcia Tinkham, Joan M. Silva, and Marietta Vogt. Pat Carmichael was prompter. Gail Jertson, Fran Townsend, Marietta Vogt, Pat Carmichael, Linda Durfee were added to the Huttlestonian staff. Connie Phaneuf was chosen Business Manager and Gail Smythe, Editor-in-Chief. Now that the end of our four year crusade is near, we realize that it is not really the end, only the beginning. Fairhaven High has given us many pleasant memories to take with us.

Class Prophecy

We enter the Halls of Merlyn the Great
To have him determine our future fate.
Tell us, oh Merlyn, just what is in store
For our classmates, the class of '54

The crystal ball's clearing, let us see
What our great future is going to be.
Our Republican Government is now done,
A monarch instead rules our work and fun.

What's this? Our bold king is on far-off shores;
Gerry is regent by request of scores.
Her chief advisor, the noble MacLean,
As All-American, he earned his fame.

Now don't you worry, Martha can be seen
With eleven boys, their home made football team,
But Anne and Cecil are still ahead;
He tests new pipes to keep twelve girls fed.

And while discussing our '54 pairs;
Brad and Dot are handling anti-red cares.
In the meantime, Dale Stetson, our Lancelot,
Has written a book, "How Girls May be Caught."

Kathy's billed "The Monroe of the Sixties,"
Latest comedy's "The Nicolacis."
Joyce and Janice, and Rita and Marie,
With Ethel and Edith, work for Toni.

New York's leading Model is "Candy" Vogt;
While journeying to places far remote,
We find two of our Gails, Jertson and Smythe,
With "Tink", they are traveling with spirits blithe.

At Doctor Roderick's new nursing school,
Where women are concerned, he's still no fool,
Studying diligently is Deb Morse;
With Ann and Mary, she's taking the course.

Carol Waite and Mary E. have settled down.
Joan Gatie heads the Library in town;
Assisted by Hazel and Pat Perry,
Bernie T. and Elaine keep things merry.

Working for Sullivan's Publishing Inc.
Is Alban, his new book's "The Missing Link,"
Plus Fran McKnight, Betty Rogers, and Lyn;
With new books, they've created quite a din.

Poyant's started a new corporation
For which Boucher supplies transportation.
Richard Amaral is the office boy;
The product is a new atomic toy.

Connie Phaneuf is the new office head;
Jo-Ann and Gale are assistants, it's said.
Also there's Timmy, Alice, Liz, Marie,
Mary Beth, Jeannette, Barbara, and Audrey.

Foremen are Bill Benoit and Allen Mills;
David Sawyer's using his science skills;
John Darling and Chet work in the lab also With Jordan, Eugene, Joe, and Pete Pinto.

Also working for the great Poyant Co.
Are John Medeiros and Frank Pacheco,
Plus Danny, George, Henry and Robert Waitt,
Dick Camara, Leo, and Ronald Wade.

For entertainment, there are traveling shows;
Boyer's replacement is Pete Barcellos.
The new "Rockettes" — Kouble, Coyne, Dreher, Reed,
Freitas, Cruickshank, E. Monteiro is the lead.

There's also LaBonte's wild western troupe,
Featuring a western comedy group,
Including Joan Lopes, Marcias Wood and Wing,
And Cowgirl Joan Taylor, who's billed to sing.

The Traveling Players present Joan Mae
Starring in "A Fancy Scrubwoman's Day"
With Ephrem Loranger, and John Duggan;
Poor Patty's hooked with the prompting again.

Shaw's dance band now includes Stella Root
With Dot and Nancy, they're raking in loot.
Their club's hat check girl is Helen Cordeiro;
The cigarette girls' head is Kris Lindoe.

Tony, Peter, Monty, and Bruce play ball;
They all came running at the Red Sox call.
Fran and Sandra write and illustrate books;
McCarthy, Marsden, and West root out crooks.

John Souza runs a new filling station,
And in the Armed Forces of our nation,
Are Generals Sylvia, Johnson, and Gomes;
They must travel where their Army roams.

In Herrick's Insurance Corporation,
For the boss there is great admiration,
We find Marion, Joan, Franny, and Pat,
With Dot D. and Alma, they sit and chat.

Last but not least we see both Mary Janes
And both Eleanors in castle domains.
While slaving at the bank we find Bunny,
With Mary Joaquin, taking in money.

Our Merlyn, now tired, is getting old,
So we must leave with thanks for all he's told.
Let's work and hope for a future that's bright;
May our deeds shine like the shield of a knight.

Linda Durfee '54.

Class Will

As we, the Senior Class of 1954, clank in our shining armor down the musty marble halls of the great Fairhaven Castle, we stumble into the principal's chambers and feeling our lives in immediate danger, we hereby write our last will and testament.

Claire Cruickshank willingly bequeaths her hope chest to June Long.

Pete Barcellos bequeaths his tattered and torn book on "How to Get Along With Women" to Tony Frates.

Ephrem Loranger, after a successful year in the theatre, bequeaths his acting talents to up-and-coming Jimmy O'Leary.

David Bold, knight of the Key Club Round Table, leaves the club to Sir Chet Hathaway.

Mr. Personality Plus, Pat Nicolaci, bequeaths his influence with teachers to Joan Romeo.

Joan Lopes bequeaths her athletic abilities to Irene Knudsen.

This year's hard working, back broken Huttlestonian Staff leaves to next year's staff thirty empty coke bottles — (to be found in the front room closet in the apartment.)

Bruce Sherman bequeaths his highly esteemed ability to fall asleep in any class to Virginia Kowal.

The Senior Class leaves its unforgettable parties to anyone with a boat house.

To Mr. Boyce, the Driver Training Classes bequeath a brand new, fire-engine red Cadillac.

With a tear in his eye and a lump in his throat, John Duggan bequeaths his curly locks to Mr. Clement.

The Senior business girls of '54 bequeath their much used booth at Herman's (the seats are still warm) to anyone who can find the place.

Fran McKnight bequeaths one silver tipped bobby pin to her favorite brunette.

To Mrs. Bruce, the Senior Class joyfully bequeaths the New Bedford Hotel.

Audrey Carlos happily bequeaths her hips to be distributed among the Junior girls, (and maybe a few sophomores?)

Martha George bequeaths her dearly beloved "hot dogs" to the cafeteria for next year's lunches.

Ceil Foote leaves his "educated thumb" to any one with a girl friend in Mattapoisett.

Kathleen Fitzgerald bequeaths her gourmet's appetite to any Junior who thinks he can keep up to her.

David Sawyer, announcer of the Wednesday night fights, bequeaths a bottle of his product, the "Mighty Magic Hair Restorer", to Mr. Dias.

Elinor Dreher bequeaths the popular record, "Cross Over the Bridge" to Janet Bruce.

William, alias "Biffy", MacLean bequeaths his favorite record, "Hot Rod Boogie", to Mike Rodgers and John Darwin.

Gerry Corcoran bequeaths the lively tune "Darlin', You Can't Love One" to Jocey Kinney.

Connie Phaneuf bequeaths the peppy "Typewriter" tune to next year's Huttlestonian typists.

Firty-four's starlet, Eva Monteiro, bequeaths "Dance Ballerina, Dance" to merry Mary Hennessy.

The records listed below are bequeathed to the library by the following:

To Miss Pillsbury, Mary Hassett bequeaths her one and only "Secret Love".

Tony Dudgeon leaves "Take Me Out to the Ball Game".

Deborah Morse bequeaths her "Bell Bottom Blues".

Lastly, the Senior Class leaves all their difficulties, problems, hardships, and headaches behind, thank goodness!!!!

Thus, on this 10th day of March in the year of Our Lord 1954, we, the most chivalrous class ever, do declare this our last will and testament and hereby appoint Mr. Boyce executor. Now, finding our armor rusty, after four years of hard labor in Fairhaven High School, we must push onward to the silver polish room.

Junior Prom - Junior Day

May first was a day of excited anticipation for all of us, for tonight was our Junior Prom. As we entered to the soft strains of Louis Queen's orchestra, we were amazed at the transformation of the auditorium to a romantic night club. The hall was decorated in luscious pastel shades of peach and green. The beautiful throne was elaborately covered in silver foil with a canopied effect. The coronation theme was carried out by the gold and silver souvenir crowns on the small tables. Gerry Corcoran, the charming queen, was ushered to her throne by "Biffy" MacLean. Lovely Kathleen Fitzgerald was her attendant and Anne Sylvia her crown-bearer. Her court ladies, Joan Aguiar, Ethel MacMillan, Dot Foster, Nancy Pearson, Joan Lopes, and Beverly Reed, followed, carrying arches of pink and green. The soft lights and music, rustling gowns and festive decorations combined to make a glorious evening filled with everlasting memories.

In June, Junior Day rolled around. The entertainment of the day was a series of short skits, written and presented by the Class of '54. The theme of the presentation was a wishing well filled with wishes for a happy and prosperous future for the Seniors.

"Isn't Life DULL?" No, I'm not asking you; that's the name of our annual Senior play. It's a three-act mystery — comedy, written by the British playwright, Wilfred Massey, several of whose works have been presented at Fairhaven High School in the past.

The story concerns two quiet, middle-aged widowers, Frank Dellow and Arthur Townsend, and their families. While trying to settle down to a restful game of chess, the two men and their progeny become engaged in a heated discussion relative to the modern generation's craving for crime plays, murder mysteries, and other works in so gory a category. Frank eventually becomes very angry and decides to teach the family a lesson by leading them to believe that he and Arthur are criminals. That is where the confusion begins; a house is broken into, a maid disappears, a pet lamb is killed, and a skeleton is discovered. Because of these horrendous happenings, Frank and Arthur are suspected by their families of being burglars, kidnappers, and murderers.

All this excitement causes the members of both families to swear off all forms of entertainment dealing with crime and mayhem.

But how long does this last? A day? A week? Or, maybe they really mean it! Nope, not ten minutes later, matters revert to the same conditions existing at the beginning of the play.

Oh, well! "Isn't Life Dull?"

Key Club - Faculty Game

Faculty 64

Key Club 31

This year, the highlight of the basketball season proved to be a real thriller. It was difficult to tell for whom the capacity crowd was cheering, since, by the end of the first quarter, the "old fellas" extracted all the cockiness from the favored Key Club five.

The five faculty cheerleaders, in chic bloomers and middies, won much applause for the enthusiastic support which they gave their team.

We're all looking forward to next year's Faculty-Key Club contest (sponsored, by the way, by the Key Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund), and, from present indications, the Key Club will have to come up with a few imports from the Boston Celtics to meet the opposition.

Mr. Alec Clement's Faculty Five deserves a round of applause for being such good sports.

Honor Society

The Fairhaven High School Honor Society is an organization which is looked upon with great pride by students and teachers alike. It is considered a great honor to be chosen as a member of this society as every new member must possess each of the four virtues for which the society stands — scholarship, service, character, and leadership.

In January of each year, the Huttleston Avenue auditorium is the scene of a very impressive ceremony. At this time, the initiates, holding lighted candles in their hands, take the solemn vows of the organization.

The officers of the society, with the aid of the student body, initiate the new members. This year, the officers and old members taking part in the ceremony were: Patricia Carmichael, President; Frances McKnight, Vice-President; Linda Durfee, Secretary; Constance Phaneuf, Treasurer; John Darling, Hazel Howland, Gail Smythe, and Marietta Vogt. The new members who were inducted into the organization include: David Bold, Geraldine Corcoran, Joan Gatie, Gail Jertson, Janice Johnson, Eva Monteiro, Patricia Perry, Elizabeth Rogers, and Frances Townsend, Seniors; and Dorothy Govoni, Patricia Govoni, Rita Guilmette, Mary Hennessey, Jocelyn Kinney, Irene Knudsen, Virginia Kowal, Julia Mello, Margaret Montgomery, Thomas Ohnesorge, Miriam Pacheco, Blanche Pepin, Eugene Rose, and William Whitehead, Juniors.

Patricia Carmichael '54

Key Club

This year the Key Club has profited by the largest membership of ambitious boys it has ever had. In making use of this large group, the club has accomplished many fine projects such as selling Christmas wreaths, operating a coke concession at basketball games and holding a basketball game between the Key Club and the faculty. Our scholarship, as a result, has been increased from fifty to one hundred dollars.

The club is sponsored by the New Bedford Kiwanis Club, and it has certainly been a group worthy of praise.

Officers are David Bold, president; Cameron Bangs, vice president-treasurer; and Lucien Poyant, secretary, with Mr. Downing as our able faculty adviser.

David Bold '54

Band

The year of 1953-54 has been a most successful one for the band. During the football season, under the direction of Miss Hastings and Mr. Bartholo, they performed various new and different routines for which they received high praise.

The annual Tag Day was an overwhelming success as band-members broke all records by collecting $731. The money from Tag Days is utilized to purchase new instruments. The new additions this year were a bassoon and a Scotch brass drum.

At the present time, the band is diligently rehearsing for their Pops Concert which is certain to be a social and financial success.

An event to which all the band members look forward is the New England Festival, at the University of New Hampshire, where they will be rated on their playing and marching.

The Fairhaven High School Band is an institution of which we can be proud, and we sincerely hope it will continue its good work in the years to come.

Frances McKnight '54

Choral Music

This year the school has been humming with music directed by its capable supervisor, Mrs. Marguerite Johnson. For the first time, classes in music fundamentals and harmony have been offered, in addition to a number of vocal groups, the largest of which is the Choristers.

To earn money to send vocal groups to the Massachusetts State Festival in Fall River and the New England Auditions Festival in New Hampshire, the Eighth Grade presented a well-received operetta, "The Toymaker," which exhibited commendable co-operation among all classes.

The Girls' Quartet, trio, and sextet, and the mixed Double Quartet have helped in making this a memorable musical year.

Gail Jertson '54

Orchestra

The talented musicians in the orchestra represent the heart of the musical organizations at Fairhaven High School. Under the capable direction and enthusiastic leadership of Miss Elizabeth I. Hastings, they have put forth their best musical foot to provide, as a result, enjoyment for their audiences and for themselves.

From dawn to dusk, auditions, practices and rehearsals fill the auditorium with the melodies of the Sousas, Porters, and Rachmaninoffs, and the orchestra this year has provided entertainment at various assemblies. In the spring, the entire group will participate in the Massachusetts and the New England Music Festivals. In addition, eight members of this group have been chosen to play in the All-State Orchestra at Worcester.

Administered, trained, and guided with an eye to perfection, the orchestra has this year written another bright page in the history of music at Fairhaven High School.

Student Council

The chief purpose of this student representative group is to assist in managing school affairs in a democratic manner, to help promote school welfare, and to sponsor enterprises that benefit the school as a whole.

With the aid of Mr. Earl J. Dias, faculty adviser, the Council has reestablished the Student Court, which gives invaluable aid in dealing with school traffic violators. Among other successful projects sponsored by the Council are the annual Mock Town Election and a survey for the purpose of ascertaining the three features of Fairhaven High School of which the student body is most proud.

This year's officers are the following: David Bold, president; William Q. MacLean, vice-president, and Ann Sylvia, secretary-treasurer. Members of the Council also attended conventions in Plymouth and Falmouth.

The girls produced an excellent basketball team this season, winning five out of six contests. Coached by Miss Anne Hayes, the team worked industriously and gained the well-deserved championship of the Narragansett League.

First team members of the squad include the following: Joan Lopes, Marie Cyr, Irene Knudsen, Sandra Hogarth, Joan Romeo, Rita Cyr, Beverly Reed, Jane Moore, Anne Moore, Dorothy Renaud, and Loretta Amaral.

The most satisfying victories for the team were those over arch-rival New Bedford. Competition was keen, but at the end of both contests, Fairhaven was ahead. Dartmouth suffered two overwhelming defeats at the hands of our talented girls.

Yes, indeed, this basketball aggregation did its best to maintain a favorable athletic record for F. H. S. Keep up the good work, girls!

Gerry Corcoran '54

Cheerleaders

Throughout the year, at all athletic events, one can see seven lively cheerleaders rooting whole-heartedly for Fairhaven teams.

The cheerleaders, who exercise the use of teamwork themselves, are this year comprised of four Seniors, two Juniors, and one Sophomore. These are Gerry Corcoran, head cheerleader; Audrey Carlos, Joan Lopes, Beverly Reed, Audrey Britto, Jocelyn Kinney, and Susan Leach. Anne Sherman, a Sophomore, has acted as a very capable and helpful substitute.

Besides leading school rallies and enhancing school spirit, the cheerleaders this year will enjoy the excitement of two cheerleaders' tournaments at Wrentham and at Spencer.

Let's hope these enthusiastic girls can continue to help spur our teams onward to victory!

Gerry Corcoran '54

G. A. A.

Because this organization accepts members ranging from Freshmen to Seniors, this year there was a turnout of more than eighty girls for the Girls' Athletic Association. This club, organized many years ago, has long been popular with athletically-minded girls.

This year's officers are Sandra Hogarth, president; Martha George, vice-president; Irene Knudsen, secretary, and Mary Jane Silveira, treasurer. Again this year, under the able guidance of Miss Anne Hayes, members of the club participated in intra-mural basketball, which afforded the participants an excellent opportunity to learn the principles of the game.

In the spring, the G. A. A. also sponsored tennis and softball teams.

An overhanging black cloud followed the Entinmen this season. The hard-working football team seemed jinxed with an unspectacular record of two victories and four defeats. Notwithstanding statistics, though, The Fairhaven High School eleven played some good football.

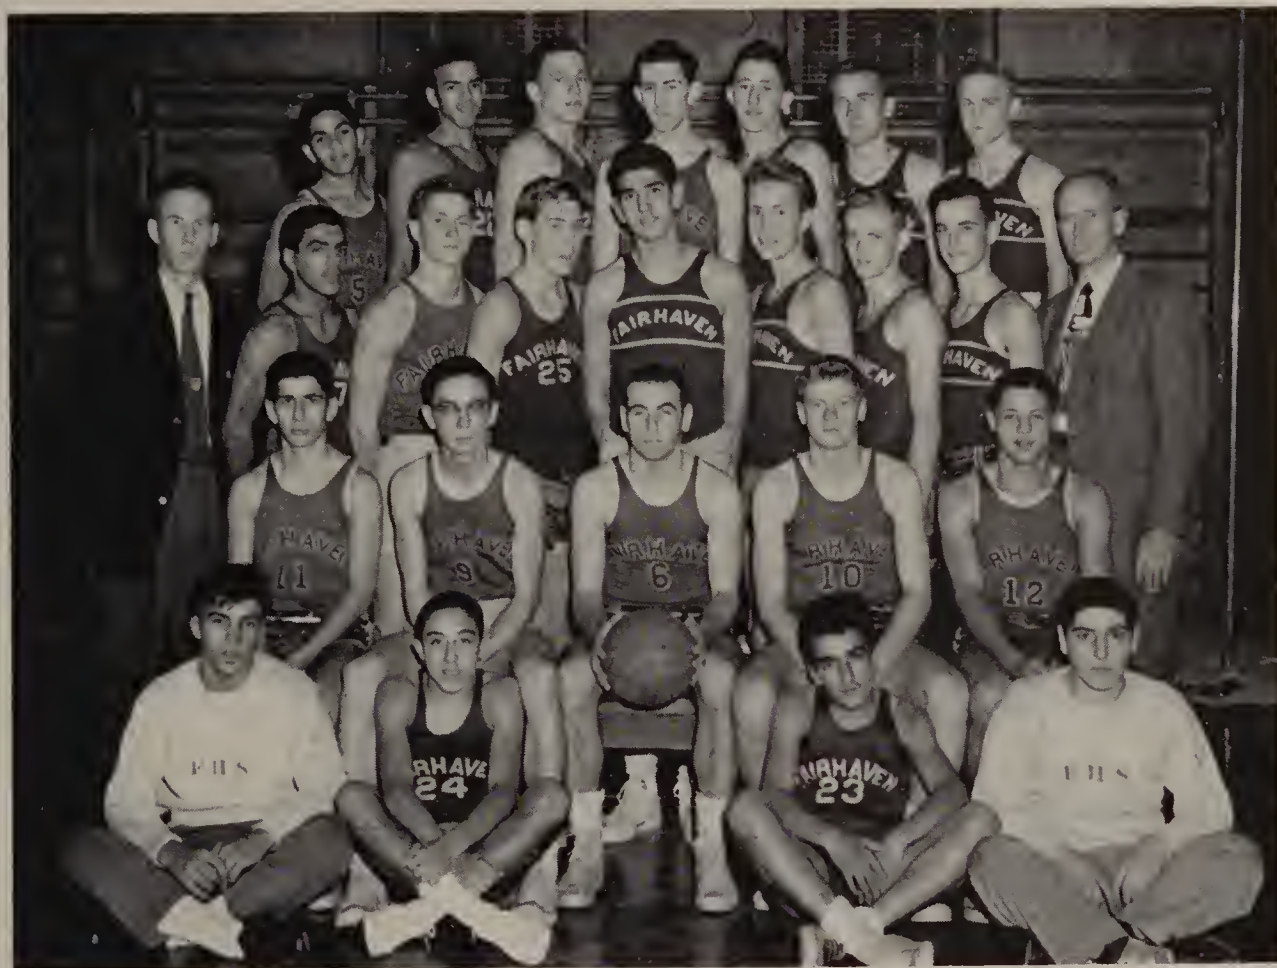

Adding to the team's bad luck was malicious gossip concerning one or two "puglistic" incidents during games; by no means was Fairhaven completely to blame, but tongues must wag.

Led by Captain "Biffy" MacLean, who, as always, was a tower of strength, the squad was considerably weaker than last year's, a circumstance caused by the many players lost through graduation. With "Biffy", Dale Stetson, Earl Sherman, and Charlie Gomes in the backfield, the team had a good combination in that respect. However, the "greenness" of most of the remainder of the squad was occasionally evident.

In any event, we're all sure that Coach Mel Entin's expert handling will mold a winning team this fall. And of one thing we're positive — next year's football team and all the future teams will have the loyal support of the Class of '54.

Although this season did not go down in the records as an exceptional one, there was some fine ball-handling displayed. Spearheaded by Captain "Biffy" MacLean, the Blue encountered some tough, out-of-class opposition. The season culminated in the most thrilling basketball game in the area when Vocational was host to Fairhaven in Hammond Auditorium.

We all hope that next year Fairhaven will be back in its traditional top place among this area's teams, and we are certain there will again come a day when Fairhaven High School will rule the courts of Greater New Bedford.

Despite the guidance of Coach George Cook, and the team's will to win, the tennis club has a poor record to show for last season. Out of ten matches, the tennis team bears the record of seven losses, two wins, and one tie.

We all hope that next year's club will bring the banner of victory home from every match.

Fairhaven 44	N. B. Vocational 33
Fairhaven 50	Taunton 27
Fairhaven 41	New Bedford 36

An undefeated season was the reward for the track team's potent efforts. Under the guiding hand of Coach Don Gavin, to whom the victories are owed, the team accomplished commendable work at every meet, especially in that close encounter with New Bedford.

Captain Paul Fitzgerald shared the limelight with "Biffy" MacLean, as those two able runners made a spectacular showing in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bob Davidson and Bob Monteiro performed well in the 880 yard dash, while Norm Comeau and Ray Sylvia starred in the mile. The 440 yard dash, as well as the broad jump, was the particular province of Matt Winterbottom, while Paul Dumas was undefeated in the high jump until his ankle injury in the Voke meet.

All in all, the season was certainly a memorable one for F. H. S. Let's hope that the season of '53 is a preview of coming seasons.

Ed Sullivan '54

Baseball, 1953

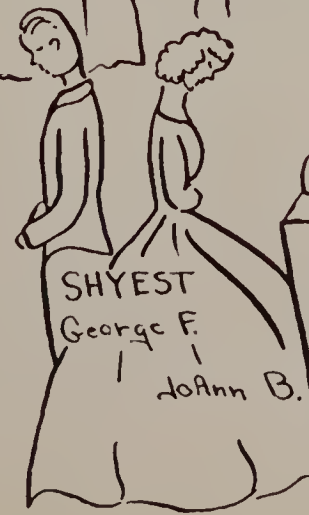

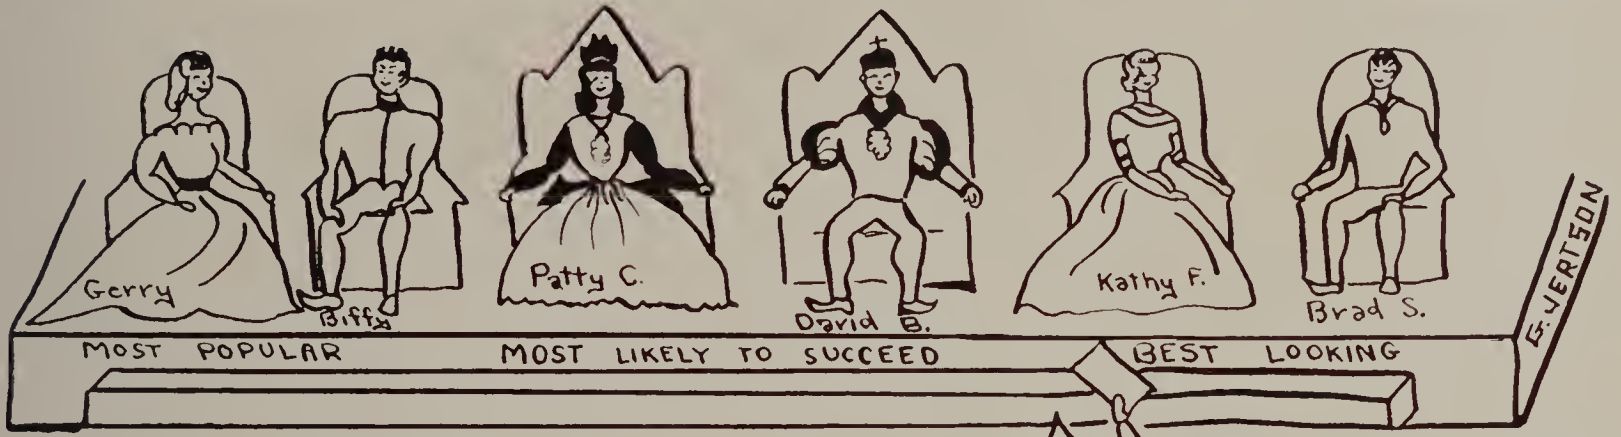

The baseball team's record of seven wins and eight losses was not overly impressive last season. This was due to the fact that most of the players were first-year men. However, under the able mentorship of Coach Alec Clement, and aided by the experience of Earl Sylvia and Marty Bordwick, the team did show continuous improvement.

With more experienced players available this year and with Coach Clement's valuable advice and training, we predict a successful season for the '54 nine.
